ENFORCING HORSE SHOW RULES

In the year 1938 the American Horse Shows Association published the first of its annual rule books. It was a modest affair containing 17 small pages devoted to the rules revised as of January 10th of that year. The edition which now bulges in the pockets of horse show enthusiasts is a far different affair. The pages are twice as large and the number actually devoted to rules, including the indispensable index, has grown to 175 or about 20 times the first edition.

This increase has been greeted with mixed enthusiasm. There is, and probably always will be, a minority which complains that all these rules and regulations are ridiculously complicated; that a really good judge doesn't need a book to tell him what is a good horse or a good performance; and that we would be much better off if we operated in the manner of 25 years ago.

On the other hand an ever growing majority realizes that the increase in the rule book has merely kept pace with the increase in horse shows; that a sport of such size would be chaotic if not regulated; and that those who show horses, being by definition exhibitionists and consequently highly competitive, need some pretty hard and fast rules if the peace is to be maintained.

The rule book was not written overnight, it is by no means perfect, nor is it immutable. On the contrary it represents the experience gained and the lessons learned in the nation's show rings during the past 18 years. Each year important additions and corrections are made to take care of new and changing conditions. As such it represents the combined efforts and thoughts of all connected with the sport and carries all the weight which this implies.

It is one thing to write a rule book and it is another thing to enforce it. Obviously an unenforced set of rules is worse than no rules at all. The necessity and advantages of enforcing the rules, strictly and impartially, has been admirably illustrated by the recent history of racing. In 1946 the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States, an association of race track managements, organized the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau. The Bureau devoted itself to seeing that the rules of conduct set forth by management and state regulatory commissions were enforced. During the last ten years it has largely driven from the track bookmakers, touts, criminals, illegal wire services and comeback money and has cut down tremendously such practices as stimulation, ringer cases and fixed races. In consequence public confidence in the sport has been built up so as to secure for racing not only immense prosperity, but first place on the basis of paid admissions, surpassing baseball and harness racing.

While the problems of rule enforcement for horse shows are entirely different, the principle remains the same. Certainly a great many of the complaints one hears to-day have their origin in lax enforcement. Equally certainly many people who have left the game or who hesitate to enter it would now be showing if they could be sure the rules would be consistently followed.

The A.H.S.A. cannot act unless someone prefers charges. Exhibitors are naturally reluctant to do so. So are many horse show managements which think of next year's entries. The show steward, who represents the A.H.S.A., is, of course, the logical person to make such charges. During the past summer the stewards report has been enlarged to include a special section for charges—certainly an important step in the right direction.

Once the A.H.S.A. has taken disciplinary action it notifies all show managements to this effect. We believe that it should go farther, that it should issue periodic news releases containing the names acted upon and the reasons for the action taken—that Mr. X has been prohibited from showing for 6 months because of improper conduct toward the judge. The fear of getting one's name in the paper would certainly keep many a hot temper from exploding in the ring.

Like any other type of law enforcement the support of the public is the overriding essential. Over a period of years the American Horse Shows Association has gained that support to a remarkable and constantly increasing degree.

Dear Sir:

I was much interested to receive the notice about the visit to Farnley Farms of Mrs. Richards. I had read about it in the London "Riding." I am so sorry I shall not be able to get down. That week I am a bit busy judging some classes out of town.

I might say I spent a week with Daisy Brodrick at her Welsh Mountain Pony Stud, near Abergele, and spent hours with her studying the judging of those grand ponies. Also I went to the E. G. E.

Westward Ho Wins The Discovery Handicap Whilst Running Mate Saratoga Is Pulled Up

Raleigh Burroughs

A man in the public eye must guard his speech. Almost anything he says may get him in dutch with the management or the public. A word spoken carelessly can sink a ship (they used to say, during the War). Ant it can put you off the Godfrey show.

When Rex Ellsworth and Meshach Tenney were in Chicago with their colt, Swaps, they had quite a bit to say, and probably much they didn't say was attributed to them. Most of their opinions were soaked up eagerly by an interested public and accepted without question.

If they wish to grow horses without grass, that's up to them; and if they can produce Derby winners by such a method, there can't be much wrong with it.

One remark that was repeated many times (by Mr. Tenney, I think) brought indignant repercussions, and some folk still are in pretty high dudgeon about it.

The observation had to do with the intelligence of the horse, and it wasn't flattering. A horse is dumb, is the substance of the remark attributed to Mr. Tenney.

This brought a storm of protests. Some particularly outraged people who had been hoping Swaps would win the match switched over and started hoping Nashua would triumph, and if they were old enough to bet, profited thereby.

Many put forth examples illustrating smart things horses have done, and built up a strong case.

So many letters were sent to racing papers that friends of Mr. Tenney went to bat for him. "Probably," they said, "he didn't mean a horse was dumb in the stupid way. Just dumb when it comes to talking."

This must have satisfied some objectors, because the cry has died down a bit.

Probably the greatest proponent of the horses-are-intelligent theme is Mr. Frank Cotton, a British trainer of steeplechase horses, though he didn't get into this argument.

A few years ago, probably after reading how American football coaches make their boys look at movies of games to see their mistakes, Mr. Cotton took two horses to the cinema.

He arranged with the manager of the Odeon Theatre in Nottingham to put on a special showing of the Grand National. He wished to have his performers see how it was done on the big time, and couldn't get good seats for them on the day of the race. They must have missed the wireless description, too.

According to Miss Hutchinson, secretary to the manager of the Odeon, both horses watched the picture intently. One of them shuddered from time to time. Possibly couldn't stand the plot.

"But," declared Miss Hutchinson, "You could see they enjoyed every minute of it."

One of the steeds left the theatre in a cold sweat; the other went out looking thoughtful. That's just about the way people leave the movies.

I never was able to learn if the horses benefited through witnessing the show, but it is possible that a new trend was being set.

Baseball parks and racetracks have ladies' day, so the picture palaces might go in for horse days.

Some of those giddy fillies would become Silver and Trigger fans, and the movies wouldn't have to worry about television any more.

Of course, there will be some bugs to iron out. The horses I know lack inhibitions, and have not accepted indoor rules for etiquette that movie house operators in our neighborhood consider de rigueur.

Properly equipped ushers might overcome this objection.

Bill Boniface, of the Baltimore "Sun-papers," hates to hear people disparage the intelligence of animals. "Horses are smart," says Bill, "and so are dogs."

As a case in point, he mentions the activities at the new drive-in movie at Timonium, hard by his home.

"I take the youngsters in there sometimes," the Sun's selector says, "and it would amaze you to see the way the neighborhood dogs come in to watch the pictures."

"The most astonishing incident took place there on a recent evening. Two dogs, regular patrons of the place, walked in and sat down just in front of my car."

"Together, they watched the show for a few minutes, then one turned to the other and said, 'We've seen this one, let's dog-trot down to the Towson.' So they got up and left."

"Actually, the dog didn't say that in so many words, but you could see from the way they acted that was exactly what was in his mind — and they did jog off towards Towson."

Meshach Tenney had better not say anything about dogs.

Atlantic City

It is very difficult this year to put your finger on anything and say this is the two-year-old champion. Decathlon, Getthere Jack, and Polly's Jet loomed large on the horizon for periods, and then there was Needles. He beat the most promising of his eastern rivals in the Sapling and then annexed the Hopeful.

Coming up for the World's Playground Stakes at Atlantic City, he looked so good that the bettors made him 2 to 5 in the mutuels.

"Money from home," one handicapper said, and it was too, for those who bet to show. They received a buck for every ten risked.

Maine Chance Farm's Busher Fantasy provided the surprise of the race. He followed the early pace of Itohe to the stretch, then took over as Itohe tired and won over Espea by three-quarters of a length. Backers received $26.20 for $2. Needles was a neck farther back in third place. He lacked early speed and went around horses making his move. He carried 122 pounds to Busher Fantasy's 110.

Itohe took fourth money.

The recent development, Pylades, was fifth all the way.

The World's Playground Stakes, at seven furlongs, was held on September 10.

Busher Fantasy is Maine Chance-bred. He is by Mr. Busher, from Blue Fantasy, by Blue Larkspur.

The $21,800 from the race brings his earnings to $28,430. He has 2 wins, 3 seconds and 1 third in 10 starts.

E. K. Mourar is the trainer. Sammy Boulmetis had the mount in the Playground.

The Miss America contest was just about getting under way at Atlantic City on Labor Day (September 5) so a contest for fillies was most apropos.

The Pageant Stakes, for three-year-old females, was the dish offered. It was on the grass, at a mile and one-sixteenth.

Cain Hoy Stable's Lalun took the $17,200 first money, by coming in a length before C. T. Chenery's Manotick. White Cross was third, and Flower Bowl, fourth.

The favorite, Miss Crow, faltered slightly at the end after making a menacing move approaching the stretch.

Lalun paid off at 3.20 to 1.

Iech, Lalun was bred by Captain Harry F. Guggenheim, master of Cain Hoy Farm.

Her 1955 record shows 3 wins, a second and 2 thirds in 10 tries, and earnings of $52,975. In May she won the Kentucky Oaks.

Aqueduct

Lady Luck tried to cross up the patrons at Aqueduct on September 10 when she caused Saratoga to break down, but she forgot the other half of the entry. Mr. Breckenridge Long's Westward Ho came through as the big horse's running mate and saved the bacon for the punters who were willing to take $3.70 for $2.

The mile-and-an-eighth Discovery Handicap was the main item on the program for the afternoon. It seemed a most suitable spot for Saratoga and probably would have been, without accident.

The free-rolling Racing Fool made the pace, with Power keeping the pressure on and Westward Ho within striking distance. Honey's Alibi was among the front ones for half a mile.

Saratoga appeared to be moving at the leaders when his right hind pastern gave way and Nick Shuk pulled him up.

Westward Ho then drove through and Illusionist came with him. They finished that way with Westward Ho having a margin of three-quarters of a length.

Power was third, half a length farther back and a neck before Racing Fool.

The race was worth $19,300 to Owner-Breeder Long.

Westward Ho has earnings $60,750 since January 1. He has won 5 races, been second once and third twice in 14 starts. He was home first in the Kent Stakes on June 4.

Frank A. Bonsal trains Westward Ho for Mr. Long and Saratoga for Montpelier Stable.

Conn McCreary rode the winner.

Woodley Lane Farm's Red Hannigan registered a mild upset when he took the Bay Shore Handicap (September 5) by three-quarters of a length over the favored Gold Box. Revolt and Game Charger were the other two money horses, and arrived at the wire as mentioned. The winner paid $13.10.

By *Heliopolis—War Damsel, by Man o' War, Red Hannigan was hanging up his second win of 1955. His other was in the Roseben in May. He has been second 4 times and third twice. With the $19,700 from the Bay Shore (a seven-furlong race) his earnings stand at $63,800.

In 1954, the colt, then three years old, brought in $48,662. He won 4 races, among them a dead-heat with Noble Risk in the Providence Stakes.

Messrs. Wilson, Maupin and Straus own Woodley Lane Farm.

H. Pardue trains.

Eddie Arcaro was aboard Red Hannigan for the Bay Shore.

The estate of Samuel D. Riddle bred the colt.

Washington Park

Washington Park's 1955 parade of pyrotechnics was completed on Labor Day when the last $100,000 burst over the one-mile Washington Park Handicap.

Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action got most of the money by catching the vaunted Helioscope on the turn and drawing out to win. His margin was 2½ lengths and his mutuels payoff, $12.40.

Helioscope didn't even get second money. The stewards set him back to third place and awarded the next best slice of cash to Duke's Lea, a Calumet Farm representative.

Social Outcast finished fourth and nothing was done afterward to alter his status.

Jet Action was carrying 120 pounds to Helioscope's 130.

Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham, who owns Maine Chance Farm, collected $96,000 from the horsemen's bookkeeper for the triumph of her four-year-old, home-bred colt. This gives Jet Action $130,378 for 1955, and lifetime earnings of $227,175.

The colt is by Jet Pilot, out of Busher, by War Admiral.

I. K. Mourar trains him. Shoemaker was up for the closing day feature.

The Beverly Handicap, on September 2, went to Hasty House Farm's Queen Hopeful. The four-year-old filly beat Myrtle's Jet by a head. Trip Lightly and Arab Actress were the next two across the wire. The winner paid $13.60.

Myrtle's Jet was the public choice.

Queen Hopeful (Roman—Playfull, by Chance Play) earned $17,375, in winning the one-mile event.

It was her third 1955 score in 11 tries. She has been second once and third twice. Her season's earnings amount to $38,130. Last year she won 5 races and an even $80,000.

G. A. Hume, Jr., bred her.

Harry Trotsek trains for Hasty House and Johnny Adams rides most of the stables horses. He was on Queen Hopeful when she took the Beverly.

Hawthorne

Dania took the Hawthorne Inaugural Handicap on September 6.

The Chicago Handicap on September 10 was won by Sir Tribal.

Randall Park

The Buckeye Handicap was taken by Park Dandy (September 3). Our Pleasure registered in Youthful Stakes and Djeddah's Star accounted for the Chagrin Valley Turf Handicap on September 5.

Del Mar

The Del Mar Derby on August 27 was won by Hi Pardner. Duce Admiral was home first in the Coronado Handicap, August 31. Miss Todd put away her field in the Del Mar Debutante Stakes, September 3. Arrogate equaled the track record in winning the Del Mar Handicap on Labor Day.

CHAMP SADDLESMITH

Willie Shoemaker, who set a world record by riding 485 race winners in 1953, performed several outstanding feats that year. On 30 occasions he had four or more winners. Twice he rode six winners in a day, and from May 6 to May 8 he rode 14 winners in 22 attempts for an average of .64 winners for three days.

SALES AVERAGE HIGH

In one of the greatest consignments ever offered at the Saratoga Sales, Henry H. Knight's Almahurst Farm on August 12 auctioned 41 yearlings for a total of $446,490, an average of $10,890, as compared with the general sales average of $9,374.

L. R. Troiano's King Commander Wins The Sumatra By Neck Over Llangollen Farms The Proff

Spectator

Scoring a mild upset in the $10,000 added Harbor Hill Steeplechase Handicap, Brookmeade Stable's Bavaria, reached the end of the about two miles three parts of a length in front of Rythminhim. Four lengths further back, Mighty Mo displaced Moot for third money by a mere neck, while another length and a half away, Fulton under top weight of 154 lbs., finished fifth, appearing to tire in the last sixteenth.

Seven horses went postward in the thirty seventh edition of this famous old race, and while there were no spills, *Another Hyacinth, the early pacesetter, was taken off the course nearing the final fence, after being beaten, and stopping badly. A series of bobbles also eliminated Oneida early in the race, but the most costly bobble occurred when Paddy Smithwick was moving into contention at the final fence on the far side the second time. Losing ground, it took several strides before he regained himself, and then went on to close strongly, and was only narrowly beaten.

In contrast to the waiting game which characterizes most of Albert Foot's rides, the diminutive Frenchman kept Mighty Mo close to the pace for the first turn, alternately set by Moot and *Another Hyacinth, then took the front end himself rounding into the club house turn the second time, and held it down the far side until overtaken by Bavaria approaching the final turn. The winner was ridden by Flint Schulhofer, who rode a well judged ride on the five-year-old, First Fiddle gelding, move into command just before the final turn, and then going to the whip in the final stages when threatened by *Rythminhim with Paddy Smithwick aboard. Approaching the final fence, Bavaria had just about a daylight lead over his four rivals which were spread across the track on equal terms. Jumping the last fence well, Bavaria under 143 lbs. crossed under the wire in 3:47½, almost six seconds off the 1942 record set by Bath.

In the winners circle after the race, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, mistress of Brookmeade Stable, posed with Bavaria, a homebred from the Blue Larkspur mare, Bavardia. Accompanying her were jockey Schulhofer and trainer Arthur White, to whom fell the task of carrying the huge Harbor Hill trophy which is presented as a permanent cup by Henry W. Bull.

The Harbor Hill was Bavaria's third stakes score of the season, he previously having accounted for the Aqueduct and Delaware Spring Maidens. His win in the Harbor Hill moved him into first place on the list of money winning jumpers this season.

On Wednesday, Sept. 7th, L. R. Troiano's 1954 'chase champion, King Commander opened his fall campaign with an impressive win in The Sumatra, a two mile hurdle. Making a comeback after being sidelined since The International Steeplechase at Belmont on May 21, King Commander impressed not so much by his winning margin, which was only a neck, but by the manner in which he ran. Holding his head low, and striding along with long, effortless motion, the Walsh-Troiano gelding made it an end to end victory, under skillful guidance from Paddy Smithwick. His closest competitor all the way, was the four-year-old grey gelding, The Proff, racing for Llangollen Farm. With Dooley Adams in the saddle, the grey ran a good race, although he had the worse of it several times, when Adams tried to get through on the inside, only to be foiled by Smithwick. Finally in the stretch, Adams took his mount on the outside, and was gradually gaining on the winner, which however, stood a long drive gamely, and showed an excellent effort for a horse which was on the shelf for almost two months this spring. King Commander carried 150 lbs., in this race, his lightest burden in over two years, and conceded 3 lbs., to his younger rival. It was nine lengths back to Good Cards, and three quarters of a length back to *Danny Boy 2nd, although these two were never serious threats to the leaders.

The day before, Troiano also saw his colors carried to victory by the three-year-old, King Gavin in a mile and a half hurdle race. Ridden by Scottie Riles, this Walsh-trained gelding finally earned his brackets through the field after winning two flat races at Saratoga. Riles kept his mount close to the pace set by Sir Pop and Songai. Sirpop quit badly after about a mile, then Songai took the lead, only to be overtaken by the winner around the last turn, but ran well to stay to a length of the winner at the wire, and some seven lengths in front of Stephen Clark, Jr.'s three-year-old, Arrius, which was making his debut through the field. Marsh Bird was a well beaten fourth after running into some interference in the stretch.

After King Commander's battle scars had healed following his fall in the International, Mickey Walsh his trainer, discovered a further leg injury, which under ex-ray, proved to be a broken splint bone. In mid-June, Dr. Reid operated on King Commander and removed this bone, and the horse was again placed in training at Saratoga.

Neji, the third member of the "Big Three" of 1954 'chasers in destined to make his first racing effort this fall in Belmont's Broad Hollow 'Chase on Sept. 22nd. On the basis of two sharp works in recent days, the *Hunters Moon IV gelding is sharp as a tack, and can well be expected to offer tough competition for honors of the Year.

Fair Hill Hunt Meeting

Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Repose Captures 16th Running Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase

Chris Wood, Jr.

Declaring his wife's Repose out of the timber feature at Fair Hill, Md., on Saturday, September 10, trainer M. G. "Mickey" Walsh sent the versatile jumper out to score a narrow decision in the 16th running of the famous Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase. Under the able guidance of John Cotter, the 11-year-old gelding led his field over the final 10 fences in the gruelling event over 3 miles and 19 of America's stiffest jumps to turn back Montpelier's Mighty Mo by a head in a photo finish. The latter, winner of the brush classic last year, was gradually closing on Repose when he bobbled the final fence and almost unseated jockey Albert Foot. Gathered together by the clever French-born rider, Mighty Mo was sent after the leader, but the drive to the wire was too short to permit a repeat of last year's victory. Running 20 lengths behind the stride-matching leaders, the Mill River Stable's Monkey Wrench gained third money in the race which was run over a firm course in 6:06½.

First away from the starters flag, Mrs. Cordelia Scaife May's Billing Bear led the field of five to the third obstacle, where a very bad landing unseated jockey James Murphy. Following this mishap, Monkey Wrench under Elwood Carter moved to the fore and held his advantage until the 10th jump, where the eventual winner took over command. Running 6 lengths behind the leaders on approaching the 7th jump, James F. McHugh's Jam and jockey Earl Phelps were carried off the course by the riderless Billing Bear. Although Jam was returned to the course to finish 4th and last, he was hopelessly distanced in the event which carried a gross purse of $3,100.

Repose, a former color-bearer for Isadore Beiber and F. Ambrose Clark, registered his 4th victory of the year. Following a season of fox hunting under amateur-rider Charles W. Stitzer in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Virginia, the Lovely Night—Queen O. gelding finished second to his stablemate, *Erin's Cottage, in the Sandhills Cup over timber at Southern Pines, N. C. Two weeks later he turned back his nemesis and won the Carolina Cup at Camden, S. C. for the second straight year. Switching from timber to brush at Tryon, N. C., Repose defeated Harry S. Nichols' Ginny Bug to win the testing Block House Steeplechase. The third trip to the winners' circle was brought off at Belmont Park where he turned back a field of 7 to win a 2 mile brush race for $4,000 claimers.

Repose's winning efforts in the feature made it two straight for America's leading 'chase trainer as he previously sent out Mrs. Walsh's *Sorayo to win the Christiana, a 1½ mile hurdle test for maidens. Cleverly handled by A. P. "Paddy" Smithwick, the English bred hurdler scored by 2 lengths over Major General Richard K. Mellon's home-bred Chambourg. The latter, making his debut under silks, bested Miss E. C. Bosley's The Beagler by 3½ lengths for the place award. The only mishap with the field of 8 starters came off at the 6th hurdle, where George W. Offutt, 3rd's Little Party unseated jockey W. Mason while running last. The winner, making his first start since May, when he won on the turf at Belmont Park, covered the route over 7 hurdles in 2:54½.

Another trainer to score a double on the six-race program was W. Burling Cocks, the popular Unionville, Pa., conditioner. His initial score was brought off in the Lewisville, a 7-furlong turf race which attracted 13 starters. Aided by Melvin Ferral, Chris M. Greer's home-bred Lofty Peak beat the starter's flag by 2 lengths and led all of the way to prevail by six lengths at the finish over Mrs. George L. Ohrstrom's *Czardas 2nd. The latter staved off a stretch drive from Montpelier's Gun Port to save the place award by a length. A member of the "field" in the wagering pool, Lofty Peak lived up to his name and rewarded his scant backers with a $235.20 payoff for each $2.00 invested.

Home-breds had a hey-day at Fair Hill, as Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Jr.'s Dancing Beacon gave trainer Cocks and Jockey Ferral their double by winning the Trouble Maker steeplechase over timber. With most of the timber-toppers waiting for the $2,500 Cecil County Steeplechase over timber at Fair Hill on Saturday, September 17, only 4 'chasers went postward. The race was by no means the highlight of the day. The first mishap occurred when *Lancel, with owner Hugh J. O'Donovan up, refused the 2nd fence, racking up Capt. J. B. Bentley's Gillian and the eventual winner, Galant Ship, with owner Charles M. Cann in the saddle, escaped the mix-up and took over the lead. Although he had a tremendous advantage, owner-rider Cann lost it when he went on the outside of a red flag and circled around to get back on the course. At this point the mixed up trio were over the fence and on their way, picking various and devious routes. Apparently owner-rider Cann's circular route was unnecessary, as Grover Stephens on Gillian went outside of the red flag in question and was not disqualified. As the small field made their way uphill to the 5th fence, it became apparent that some of the riders had not bothered to walk the clearly-marked course, as none followed a direct route to save ground. At this fence, *Lancel decided that he had had enough racing for the day and again refused. After 4 attempts, where he stopped and kicked his heels in rebuttal, the winner of last year's Virginia Gold Cup was ridden off the course by his embarrassed owner.

While *Lancel was displaying his obstinate streak to the 5,000 spectators, Galant Ship took over command. The leadership for the 'chaser which beat the redoubtable *Land's Corner at Radnor this past spring was short-lived as the trio divided front-running honors while they took ground-losing routes. Over the 19th and final fence, Gillian led Dancing Beacon by a head, with Galant Ship 1½ lengths behind. Answering Melvin Ferral's urging in the stretch, Mrs. Greenhalgh's home-bred went on to score by 4 lengths. Gillian saved the

Swoon's Son to Keeneland

E. Gay Drake, owner of Mineola Farm, Lexington, Ky., announced last week that the next major goal for his home-bred Swoon's Son, winner of the Arlington and Washington Futurities, will be the Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland on Oct. 22.

Young Houston Treated After Kick

Joe Houston, 13-year-old son of Carl T. Houston, received hospital treatment last week for a leg cut suffered when he was kicked by a horse at Tilford L. Wilson's farm, Lexington, Ky., which the elder Houston manages.

Touring Farmers Visit Spendthrift

A group of 40 farmers from Tarboro, N. C., on a tour of five states by chartered bus, stopped last week to inspect Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, Ky. The trip took in farms in West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee, as well as others in Kentucky.

Nashua Returns

Nashua is back home in his stall at Aqueduct and he couldn't look fitter. His coat shines, his muscles ripple, and he looks just beautiful. His people say neither the trip nor the big race threw him off in the slightest.

Out on the track or in the walking ring he looks big. But you ought to see him in a stall — muscles all over the place and he just glows power. He looks as if he could walk right out thru the wall. Actually, he is sixteen hands two and he weighs between 1150 and 1200 pounds which is one big colt. He makes me think of Native Dancer which was somewhat of a bull himself.

The thing which might finally lick him for performance on the track aside, of course, from the handicappers' piling on more and more weight is his own muscles. He might get too heavy. That can be overcome by the simple process of gelding him as was done with Social Outcast. That is quite naturally out of the question. He and his progeny to be are too valuable to racing.

Nashua's current schedule calls for an appearance in the Sysonby on September 24. As you know, that is a weight for age race. As you probably know too, both High Gun and Helioscope are entered. Seeing High Gun and Helioscope tangle at level weights should be quite a spectacle. Throw in Nashua and you really have something. Then, we can hope to see Nashua in the Jockey Club Gold Cup (won by three year olds for some years back) and probably the Washington D. C. International. Nice menu.

Dario Sale

Fasig-Tipton conducted the B. A. Dario Reduction Sale on September 3 at the Lincoln Downs paddock commencing at 10 o'clock. 38 head were sent through the ring for $23,600, an average of $621.00.

Top price of the sale was the 7-year-old bay mare Tease Me Not, by War Admiral — Rich Cream, by Milkman which was bought by Bayard Tuckerman, Jr. of Boston, Mass. for $2,300.

Runner-up on the price scale was the chestnut yearling filly by Mel Hash out of the stakes winning Liteco, by Economic which went to Trainer George Handy, Seekonk, Mass. for $2,100.

Florida's Needles

The votes won't be counted until early November — in the gallop polls, that is — but Florida has the leading candidate, for the first time in history, for a national horse champion.

The way the Florida-foaled, Florida-raised, Florida-trained Needles trounced the best Eastern 2-year-olds in Saratoga's historic Hopeful has horsemen and sports writers alike singing his praises, and predicting bright things in next Spring's Triple Crown. Even more enduring, however, the D. & H. Stable's colt will have a place now in the record books with such Hopeful winners as Man o' War, Middleground, Battlefield, Native Dancer and Nashua.

In past years there have been six horses that have come out of winter training in Florida to be chosen as juvenile champions: Whirlaway, Alsab, Education, Bewitch, Battleground and Summer Tan. Needles, however, is the first colt with a complete Florida background, back to the moment when he was foaled at Dickey Stables, near Ocala, in the north central part of the state.

Three years ago, the owner of Dickey Stables, W. E. Leach, purchased three mares and two suckling fillies for about $10,000 in Kentucky. One of the horses was Noodle Soup, and she was in foal to the 1949 Kentucky Derby winner, Ponder. The result was Needles, who comes from far off the pace, just as his sire did. One of the filly sucklings, out of Noodle Soup (thus, a half-sister to Needles), turned out to be the stakes-winning filly, Menolene.

Needles was a winner even before he raced, being selected as Best of Class in the Florida Breeders' Baby Horse Show last January in the Hialeah paddock. He was sold in a private transaction at Hialeah for $20,000 to Jackson C. Dudley and Bonnie T. Heath, owners of the D. & H. Stables. Both have homes in Florida, Dudley at Fort Lauderdale, Heath at Pompano.

The colt won his first start, a maiden race, in Florida on March 29 by five lengths. He finished fourth in the Gulfstream Park Juvenile, and then came back to set a 4½ furlong track record. He won an allowance race at Monmouth on June 22, then was fourth to Decathlon in the Tyro Stakes on July 4. With the distance stretched to six furlongs in the Sapling, he snapped the undefeated strings of both Polly's Jet and Decathlon.

The experts were still skeptical, however, until the Saratoga Hopeful on August 31.

The victory was more convincing than the three-and-a-half length margin, and behind him at the wire were all of the leading Eastern juveniles: Career Boy, Polly's Jet, Jean Baptiste, Decathlon.

Originally, Needles wasn't eligible for The Garden State, the world's richest race, but Trainer Hugh Fontaine and Owners Dudley and Heath decided after the Hopeful to pay the $10,000 supplementary fee to make him eligible for the October 29 championship—the event which will crown 1955's juvenile king.

Eight Thirty Winner in England

Lord Astor has considerable interests on both sides of the Atlantic and often brings an American-bred yearling to Britain.

One such is the brown filly Night Operation, by Eight Thirty out of Scalpel, who was sent over last year. After running fourth and third in her first two races, Jack Collings took her North to Thirsk for the 1,400 dollar Sessay Maiden Plate. Backed down to 11-10 favourite in a field of 11 runners, she led from the start, though it was only a head that she held off Alycidon's daughter Far Hills at the finish, the camera being used to confirm the verdict. — P. T.C.

Expensive Failure

Though American owners have been having their share of success recently in England, it is not a question of "roses, roses all the way".

At last year's December Sales, a syndicate of New Jersey sportsmen composed of Messrs. James Cox Brady, Anderson

Racing In Mexico

Emil Zubryn

The Hipodromo de las Americas has shown that it is anxious that the "sport of kings" south of the border is run as cleanly as possible.

Doping of horses and fixed races were a notorious scandal not so many years ago. Energetic action has cut this activity to a minimum. The picture is not perfect for there still is a sliding back to fixed races, dopings, tipsters who take fans for a ride, etc. These operations, however, are not as flagrantly open as they once were, and a determined management attempts to stamp them out whenever it has information of shady maneuvers.

Some time ago the judges indefinitely suspended trainer Roberto Lage because tests showed that one of his horses — Criollo — had been drugged with a narcotic to kill pain.

Lage had sworn innocence of knowledge of administration of the drug, but the judges ruled against it for the horse was known to have been lame in many of his starts.

Arbitrary action of the judges has sometimes brought unmerited suspensions, but on the whole the track management is fair and is trying honestly to give Mexican fans and U. S. tourists something quite revolutionary in Mexico.

Despite all precautions, there are strong rumors here that gamblers engineered a big killing with the No. 23 post position quiniela the first Sunday in February. Apprentice rider Enrique de Alba atop Chubasco, No. 3 in the famed 2-3 quiniela, is suspect, but there is not enough evidence to warrant a suspension. However, he will be watched carefully from now on.

The Hipodromo de las Americas is a comparatively recent track, for it was first opened to the public in 1943. It is claimed to be one of the finest race courses in the world, covering over 200 acres, with accommodations for 65,000 fans and 1,200 box stalls in its stables. Furthermore, horses quartered at the track are given pure water from the plant's own 700 foot artesian well.

Bruno Pagliai and Bernard E. Smith were the two men who had a two million dollar dream which they saw become reality with the inauguration of the track in 1943.

Racing has been in the Mexican picture for years before. Back in 1881 the first Jockey Club was opened in Mexico, 13 years before the inauguration of the New York Jockey Club. The founding members, 22 in number, put up a fund of $28,000 pesos (around the same amount in dollars then) and the government gave approval for the first recorded organized horse racing in Mexico at the Hipodromo Mexicana. Ten years later, however, racing enthusiasm died for lack of finances and interest of fans who gravitated to tracks of the good neighbor to the north. From 1895 to 1922 the sport was almost non-existent and was not revived on a major scale until the opening of the swank Hipodromo de las Americas a dozen years ago.

But the true history of horse racing in Mexico goes far back. Records show that it was Herman Cortez, swashbuckling adventurer and brutal Conqueror of Mexico who started horseracing on this American continent. On April 21, 1519, when he and his Conquistadores landed in Veracruz, the foundations of the sport of Kings was laid. Prior to that the Indians had never seen a horse and when they first saw mounted Spaniards they believed (1) that they were gods and (2) that the horses were evil spirits come to punish them for past misdeeds.

Cortez brought fifteen horses with him to Mexico and it is said in history books that these fifteen animals were the beginning of the republic's now world-famous horse-breeding business. However, not so long ago, ethnologists have disagreed with this theory and skeleton remains of horse-like creatures have been found in Mexico, far pre-dating Cortez's arrival in the New World.

A little later on, in 1526, the breeding of horses became an issue of national importance in Mexico for the government published a special regulation which said that "no person in any State, no matter what his economic condition, shall raise mules but horses." Some years later, the government ruled that all mule owners must have at least one horse, in an effort to expand the breed.

The first modern track, or one that simulated it, was constructed in Mexico in 1852, but within two years it was abandoned.

Today, however, horseracing is an accepted part of the national scene, with a tri-weekly card offered in Mexico City, and there is, of course, the famous Tijuana course visited by the Hollywood film colony. The Hipodromo today is a swank meeting place for the blue bloods of Mexico. The Jockey Club has an excellent ballroom, lounge, bar, dining room and private elevator. The track also has a recreation center, restaurant, drug-store, saddle shop, barbershop and steam baths.

Deauville, France, 1955

Godolphin Darley

The race meeting on the Normandy coast through August included racing at the major track Deauville from August 3rd to 28th as well as at the pretty and attractive Clairefontaine-Deauville which opened in July and closed early September.

The two chief events of the whole season were the $25,700 added features, Prix Morny for two-year-olds and Grand Prix de Deauville for three-year-olds and upwards.

Fourteen youngsters with high reputations were in the line up for the 3/4 mile Straight Prix Morny, considered as the second leg of the French two-year-old crown. Winner of the first leg Prix Robert Papin, Aly Khan's willy Fiere by Sicambre skipped the Deauville event and tried in the Gimcrack at York where she lost by a nose. Her runner up in the Robert Papin, Guy de Rothschild's filly Reine Martiale by Court Martiale only came in sixth in the Morny.

A most brilliant winner at 3/2 at Deauville was Marcel Boussac's filly Apollonia, by Djebel out of the Poule d'Essai (French 1000 Guineas) winner Corejada by Pharis. Very closely inbred on Tourbillon. Apollonia won her only previous start, the Prix Yacowlef a week earlier at the meeting from Pierre Wertheimer's filly Midget by Djebel, and half sister to Vimy, winner of this season's mammoth event at Ascot. Midget ran third in the Morny. In between the two fillies was Georges Wildenstein's colt Verrieres by Palestine, winner already of two stakes, Prix du Bois at Longchamp and Prix de la Vallée d'Auge at Deauville. Fourth was the colt Toudrai and fifth R. B. Strassburger's colt Montaval by Norseman.

The Grand Prix de Deauville drew a field of fourteen among which the favorite was Guy de Rothschild's colt Beignet by Oranach, third in the Prix du Jockey Club (French Derby). Beignet and the stable entry Palissy made a fine showing and finished second and third to Aly Khan's very recent purchase, on the eve of the event, the 6-year-old mare Rosa Bonheur by Kerlor. Winner paid 28/1 and the morning triple forecast (the first three) a dividend of 1254/1 per ticket giving the first three in the correct order.

Another noteworthy winner during the meeting was Martin Fabiani's 3-year-old colt Klairon who, giving 9 lbs., defeated R. B. Strassburger's classic contender Bryn in the Prix Jacques le Marois over 1 mile Straight. Klairon started four times this season was beaten only once when third in the photo finish at Newmarket in the 2000 Guineas. Later on Klairon won the French edition of the Guineas, the Poule d'Essai des Poulains. Constantly on the improval Klairon is probably now the best miler in the whole of Europe, England included. Klairon is by the highly successful (though shy breeder) sire Clarion by Djebel out of the dam Kalmia a half-sister to Lavedula. So Klairon is closely related to the remarkable performers and sires in Alycidon, Ambiorix, Cagire, Sayani, My Babu, *Turn-To.

Klairon will cross over shortly to compete at Atlantic City in the Foreign Bred Stakes on September 17th. along with two other stakes-winners, R. B. Strassburger's 3-year-old Chargeur also by Clarion and Georges Wildenstein's 5-year-old gelding Jolly Friar.

Marcel Boussac's 3-year-old colt Macip by Marsyas out of Corejada the dam of Apollonia won easily the Prix Kergorlay at 1m.7/8; Guy de Rothschild's colt Tropic by Fontenay took the Prix de la Côte Normande at 1m.2/8. Earlier on in July, Macip and Tropic were respectively first and second in the Prix Maurice de Nieuil at 1m.9/16. In the fillies division, Rothschild's Agaca by Fine Lad scored in the Prix Pomone at 1m.2/8; Lord Derby's Aleutian by Alycidon led from end to end in the Prix du Casino equally at 1m.2/8.

The mile Grand Handicap de Deauville went to the 5-year-old Greuze by Clarion and the 2m.1f. Grand Handicap de la Manche to the four-year-old Fil Rouge by Rouge et Noir. Runner up in the long distant handicap was G. L. Ohrstrom's filly Vanette by Tanagrello.

Two horses achieved a hat trick at Deauville. the 4-year-old gelding Dog and Cat won three in three starts including the Prix Quincey. Aga Khan's 2-year-old colt Buisson Ardent by the American-bred sire Relic and a half brother to the Prix Royal Oak (French Leger) winner Buisson d'Or concluded his series of three with the Prix des Foals.

A new event the Prix Georges Courtois at 1 1/2 miles is now the most important amateur-riders flatrace in Europe. The first running drew nineteen starters and the best amateurs from eight countries. Winner was P. H. Delahoutre (French) on Sidano from R. H. Andretto (Swiss) on his French colt Volpone.

American winners at the meeting were R. B. Strassburger, Bertrand L. Taylor who both live in Paris, and Russel L. Reineman from Illinois, whose French colours won on their second appearance with Bozi. Not so fortunate was G. L. Ohrstrom whose other representative besides Vanette the grey three-year-old gelding Arywa failed by the shortest of noses.

When racing in Paris, the horses are vanned from their trainers' yards to the various tracks and back the same day. At Deauville some 120 miles from Paris, the horses alike in the U. S. remain at the track for the meeting. They train on turf mostly, on a very large track set inside the main track. An innovation this season was the new sand track inside the training track and intended for the daily exercise in the same style as in the two Paris centres. Some five hundred horses were housed at Deauville.

Adjoining the infield enclosure inside the main track are two Polo fields. Polo is a typical feature of the Deauville season and well subsidized. Seven teams met through August. The Anglo-Hindu team captained by Rao Radjah Hanut Singh was outstanding and won both the Gold Cup and the Silver Cup. Arthur Luca captained an English team, the Woolmers Pack. The Italian team Villa d'Este under A. Noe, captain, included the Argentinian Menditeguy, handicap 10. The South American team Cibao La Pampa also included a handicap 10 in R. Cavangh and was captained by Porfirio Rubirosa. Three French teams were present, one with Henri Couturie as captain.

The Deauville yearling sales were started long before 1900 and play a great part in the venue. These sales are open to all comers and no number is refused. The sales extended through two weeks in ten hour sessions held immediately after the races in the closeby Cheri paddocks, a most attractive establishment complete with shady trees and beautiful flowerbeds. Each number pays a fee of $100 for cataloguing. Sales commissions are 4% paid by the seller plus 7% by the buyer. The commissions include a Government's tax of 4.20% plus the fee for the official auctioneer, a Government officer.

The Ministry of Agriculture inaugurated a subsidy of $57.00 per head sent through the ring. Some 445 yearlings came on offer and altogether 265 were sold for a total of francs 251,761,000, at an average of around $2700 per yearling. Sales total was up 62% over last season's total. Bidding was often keen in the ring and 174 yearlings passed their reserve and were sold at auction. The remaining 91 were sold privately after passing in the ring. Sales conditions provide similar sales commissions for the company whether the yearling is sold at auction or at barter. Every colt sold fairly easily. The number of fillies on offer still largely overran the demand.

Top price and new French record was achieved by Comtesse Hubert de Chambure's bay colt Royaume, which cost nearly $31,714. Purchaser was George L. Ohrstrom publisher of The Chronicle. The colt remains in France and joins his owner's Paris Stable with John Cunningham at Chantilly. A March foal Royaume is a fine individual perhaps a little plain looking with strength all over and plenty of bone, well balanced and apparently with no faults. Royaume named after a famous abbaye near Chantilly is by Prince Bio the sire of top classic winners in three consecutive years. The colt is out of the young French Oaks winner Montenica by Djebel. The dam's full sister won the Irish Oaks, another

The daughter of Requested out of the Pawtucket Handicap winner Cherrydale took the Ashland Stakes, Delaware Oaks and Santa Margarita Handicap during four racing seasons.

War Admiral Fillies One-Two

Two three-year-old daughters of War Admiral, who stands at the Samuel D. Riddle Estate's portion of Faraway Farm, Lexington, ran one-two in the faster division of the recent $25,000-added Vagrancy Handicap at Aqueduct. Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Searching, full sister to Great Captain, topped Rokeby Stable's Blue Banner by 1½ lengths.

Mark-Ye-Well's Last

Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well ran his last race in the recent Meadowland Handicap at Washington Park. As reported here previously, the $581,910 earner by Bull Lea—Mar-Kell, by *Blenheim II, will enter stud next spring at Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, Lexington.

New Barn, New Silks

W. H. Floyd, owner of Fairway Farm, Lexington, recently completed a new eight-stall barn.

He is breaking a yearling filly by Mighty Story—Victory Song, by Zaca-weista, to become the first bearer of the silks of Fairway, so named because it is located alongside the Lexington Country Club's golf course. Named Fairway Lassie, this miss will sport unique colors, to say the least: Green with white golf balls.

Bennett Leases Shadyside

Thomas H. Bennett has resigned from the staff of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reine-man's Crown Crest Farm, Lexington; and has leased John B. F. Randolph's Shadyside Farm. Mr. Bennett plans to operate Shadyside as a boarding farm.

He formerly managed Samuel M. Look's Hillandale Farm. Before that he had worked for Colonel Phil T. Chinn and Horatio Mason.

Danada Buys Interest in Olympia

Dan and Ada Rice's Danada Farm, Lexington, announced last week the purchase of an interest in Fred W. Hooper's stallion Olympia, who has stood at Danada since 1951.

The nine-year-old son of *Heliopolis out of the stakes winner Miss Dolphin, by Stimulus, is currently one of the leaders in the two-year-old sire list with his second crop of foals. Gandharva and Decathlon have been his best performers to date.

During four active seasons, Olympia earned $365,632; and was unplaced only 10 times in 41 starts. Among his victories were the Breeders' Futurity, Primer, San Felipe, Flamingo and Withers Stakes, Wood Memorial, Derby Trial, Experimental Free Nos. 1 and 2, Pumonok, Camden and Roseben Handicaps, and a dead-heat with Ky. Colonel for first in the Joliet Stakes, in which a new Washington Park record of :58½ was set for five furlongs.

*Daumier's First

Aquarelle, recent cantering five-length victor in the Prix de Vineuil at Long-champs, is the first starter, first winner and first stakes captor sired by *Daumier, who stands now at Lou P. Doherty's Stallion Station, Lexington.

The Italian-bred stallion by Niccolo Dell'Arca from the unbeaten Donatello II's full sister Donatella, winner of the Gran Criterium and dam of two other stakes horses, was the best horse of his generation in his native land. Unbeaten at two and never unplaced in 15 starts, he earned 24,760,000 lire, chiefly through triumphs in the Criterium National, Gran Criterium, Premios Chiusura, Emanuele Filiberto and Jockey Club, and Derby and St. Leger Italiano.

*Daumier sired two crops in Italy before his importation to this country, where his first foals are now weanlings. Aquarelle, of course, is a member of the stallion's first Italian crop.

IRELAND

Irish-breds Head Sire List

Interestingly enough the three stallions which are now leading the sire list in this country, *Nasrullah, *Khaled and *Alibhai, are all Irish-breds, all were foaled at the Sheshoon Stud on The Curragh, and all were bred by the Aga Khan.

In the Kentucky Derby of this year, five of the first seven horses were by these three horses — Swaps (1st), by *Khaled; Nashua (2nd), Jean's Joe (5th), and Flying Fury (6th) by *Nasrullah; and Honey's Alibi (7th), by *Alibhai.

MARYLAND

Windy Hills to Sell Three

The O'Farrell Brothers of Windy Hills Farm, Westminster, will sell 3 yearlings at the Garden State Sales, September 26-27-28. One of the standouts of the group is the handsome, deep bodied filly by Tip-Toe out of the Flares mare Softie, a half-sister to the dam of Bryan G. This black filly is a half-sister to the good 2-year-old allowance winner Arch Rival (winner 4 races this season in 8 starts to Sept. 7, being unplaced only twice), and to the winners Speedy Harp, Tiny Harp, Alice McNulty, and Slammin' Harp. Tip-Toe (an extremely fast half-brother to Prince Simon) from limited opportunities is the sire of 7 winners, and 2 place horses from 11 starters from Continued On Page 13 his first 5 crops to race. One of his unplaced horses broke a leg in his first outing. Tip-Toe is also sire this season of the handy 2-year-old winner Shrewd Tip.

Another in the consignment which is sure to appeal to horsemen is a substantial filly by *Hunters Moon IV—Marching Along, by Man o' War. This bay filly is a half-sister to the stakes winner on the flat and over jumps Pebalong, and to March Scholar (dam of the stakes winners Kinda Smart and Wise Scholar), and Marchelin (dam of the stakes winner Rhodelin), and to 5 other winners. The next dam is the outstanding producer Annette K., dam of the top stakes winner and sire War Glory, and grandam of War Admiral.

The third member of the Windy Hills consignment is a well-knit brown filly by *Piping Rock—Silk Quill, by *Princequillo, out of the Pompey matron In Silks.

Glade Valley Farm Sells Yearlings

Glade Valley Farm, the celebrated thoroughbred nursery at Walkersville, Maryland, which produced the Great Mare GALLORETTE, CHALLEDON, ESCADRU, PICTOR and many other stakes winners, is offering nine choice yearlings at the Garden State Sales, the first consignment by the Farm's new owner, Colonel H. B. Marcus.

Colonel Marcus purchased Glade Valley Farm from the Estate of the Late W. L. Brann about two years ago, and recent visits indicate extensive improvements have been made toward the production of fine Thoroughbreds. Toward the breeding phase the Syndicated Stallion ALERTED (BULL LEAHASTILY YOURS by John P. Grier) has been added to the farm owned Stallion THE PINCHER. CALL OVER and BIG DIAL also are standing at Glade Valley with considerable success, as evidenced by the number of mares in foal.

Plans are presently in the formative stage to construct a half-mile turf training track, in addition to a modern yearling barn of twenty-four stalls, to be completed in the fall of 1956.

—TEXAS— Lucky Oscar's First

When Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wessman's colt, Golden Oscar, won his first out at Del Mar Sept. 1, there ended a long watching and waiting period by John Holliday, who has Lucky Oscar, sire of Golden Oscar, at stud near Edmund, Oklahoma. Holliday, one of the real veterans in Thoroughbred ranks in the Sooner State, has the young stallion under lease for a limited period from Bud Burmester, Forth Worth, Texas, who owns the son of Easy Mon—Nectarine by *Bull Dog. Burmester also has been wishfully watching the results of the 2-year-old events, and he was delighted with Golden Oscar's victory. Lucky Oscar has four 2-year-olds racing for his first crop. The horse is a prime favorite in Oklahoma and his book for 1956 is almost filled with bookings for 1957 also scheduled. The horse is standing on a live foal basis with return privileges.

—VIRGINIA— Prepares Fifteen

James Wiley is preparing some 15 yearlings for various parties at his Loc-o-hee Farm, near Middleburg, for the Garden State Yearling Sales, September 26-27. Included in the group are colts by Boss, Rosemont, Heliodorus and My Request, and fillies by Alquest (3), More Sun, Black Gang (2), Galerius, Loser Weeper (2), Joe Ray, and Knockdown.

for H. H. Aga Khan's and Prince Aly Khan's 2-year-old Darubini, an own-brother to Diableretta, a real flying filly if ever there was one.

Darubini is certainly "bred in the purple", for he is by Nearco's son Dante, while his grandam is Mumtaz Begum, and readers will hardly need to be reminded that she produced *Nasrullah, *Nizami II, *Rivaz and many other winners. To date he has run twice unplaced, in one of which races the winner had been bought for less than 300 dollars.

Last week his unfulfilled engagements included a maiden plate worth only 400 dollars to the winner! — P. T.-C.

Beechpark Wins in Ireland

As the former owner of *Nasrullah and the recent purchaser of Calumet's Hill Gail besides many other reasons, J. McGrath will be well-known to American racing enthusiasts.

He recently had a good day on the Curragh when his horses won 3 of the 6 races on the card.

4-1 chance Beechpark, a six-year-old horse by *Nasrullah won the 1½ mile Kildare Handicap by 1½ lengths. A versatile performer, he will be remembered as the horse who came over for the International Steeplechase last May and moreover is a half-brother to Panaslipper who is scheduled for the Washington D. C. International this fall.—P. T.-C.

West Of England Hound Show

Daphne Moore

The West Country, besides being famous for cider, cheeses, Devonshire cream and scene of the loveliest country in England, is also notable for one of the premier hound shows, which attracts a large crowd of hunting enthusiasts each year on the first Thursday after August Bank Holiday. Foxhounds, harriers and beagles are judged in adjoining rings and, though the Hound Show is only one section of the annual Honiton and District Agricultural and Horse Show, it has in recent years expanded and developed out of all knowledge. Here one can often see some of the finest hounds in the British Isles, including many Peterborough champions. The best judges are always invited, and this year the Duke of Beaufort adjudicated, with Mr. Lancelot Smith, M. F. H. of the Island, who had flown over from Ireland the previous day.

A tremendous surprise was provided when the Peterborough and former West of England Champion, Heythrop Harper '53, was defeated by a dark horse (or, more accurately, a light hound) from the Welsh border, S. Herefordshire Merchant '52, who had never been seen at a hound show before. The two combatants met in the stallion hound class, in which the six entrants were soon down to three, two of them coming from the Heythrop and being shown by Percy Durne, the kennel huntsman, in his green hunt coat; while the S. Herefordshire dog was shown by Nimrod Capel, whose father hunted the Belvoir Hounds as long ago as 1896 and whose own history of Hunt service stretches back to the early century.

It was a tense moment when the ring steward stepped forward to announce the judges' decision: "1st prize, S. Herefordshire Merchant; 2nd, prize, Heythrop Harper; 3rd prize, Heythrop Regal". Harper was ineligible for the Championship owing to the fact that he won the cup in 1953. The runner-up to Merchant, whose award of Championship was thus a foregone conclusion, was a nice young light-coloured dog from Cornwall, Four Burrow Purser, by Portman Sailer '52.

As for the Champion himself he was lemon and white in colour, very clean and bright in his coat, well-muscled and hard and apparently in perfect condition; indeed one of the judges subsequently remarked that he looked the fittest hound in the show. He has an attractive swan neck, well-sprung ribs, without being too round or "barrel"—ribbed, good depths and level back. His pedigree is interesting, both sire and dam tracing in tail-male to the influential Brecon Paragon '23, which a great hound breeder of the past has told me is the most powerful way of breeding to a selected strain of blood. He was bred by a late Master of the S. Herefordshire, Mrs. Simmonds, in the last season of her 20-year Mastership and she must derive great pleasure from Merchant's success; certainly there is no doubt that Capt. Ashby, the present M. F. H., (who incidentally, attended Bryn Mawr Show two years ago and toured several American Kennels) was extremely proud.

The bitch championship went to Cattistock April '54, who was unplaced at Peterborough, with Heythrop Rowdy reserve. The latter had previously won the special prize of a hunting horn for best single unentered bitch, presented by Captain Ronnie Wallace, Master and huntsman of the Heythrop and thus won back by his own Kennel: the Champion was a level-topped tan and white bitch, short coupled and with strong back and ribs.

The harrier classes were judged simultaneously by Captain Wallace and Mr. R. N. Rycroft, Master of the Summer Beagles in Gloucestershire, in an open air ring. It was fortunately a fine sunny day and probably the harriers had the best of it, both foxhounds and beagles being under the cover of a sweltering marquee. The Cotley, that beautiful West Country harrier pack which has hunted foxes exclusively since 1938 and has been in the hands of the same family since its foundation in 1796, carried all before them, winning both Championships and four first prizes. Their champion doghound, Roman '51, would be a grand sort for any country and is the result of a highly successful cross of College Valley blood (descending from Fell-hounds as well as the best of English foxhound strains) which has "nicked" admirably with the West Country harrier.

My namesake, Cotley Daphne '53, the Champion Bitch, is a beautiful pure white hound, full of quality, rather light of bone, swan necked, just over 20" in height and built for speed. She is the perfect type of hound for an American outcross, being sufficiently narrow across the chest to squeeze through the woven wire fences, besides being of the size and conformation required.

The beagle ring adjoined that of the foxhounds, and if one were lucky enough to get one of the topmost ringside seats one could get a view of both from this envied and elevated position. Another Irishman was judging here, Mr. A. G. Ryan, Master of the Holycross Beagles in Ireland, with Capt. C. A. K. Matterson. The male championship went to a well-made little badger pied dog from the Roman Catholic School of Downside, whose Hunt Secretary, Father O'Hara, was an interested spectator. This pack was only formed in 1946 so its rapid rise to fame is most creditable. A Naval pack, The Britannia, won the bitch championship. Both descend from that great beagle sire, Dummer Woldsmen '41.

I'm For Foxhunting

For years I have wanted to hunt — but a very busy career never permitted me in my younger years to devote any time to it — or at least I thought that was so. But the romance of hunting — gathered from the literature and art devoted to it — always impressed me and made me feel that one day — (time indefinite and in the distant future) I should very much want to hunt. I have ridden all my life and have owned horses for the past fifteen years, but I never jumped, my riding, which took me over the beautiful Bucks County countryside, enabled me to develop trails of about 20 miles in length in each of the four directions leading from my farm.

Then on New Year's Day of 1953 my wife awakened me from an afternoon nap to see the beautiful Huntingdon Valley Hounds in full cry running across my fields. I was utterly enchanted and ran to the barn where I litterally threw a saddle on my mare and went after them. The fox had gone to ground in my woods and it was then that I met the M. F. H. of Huntingdon, Doug Paxson, who always gives one good sport and has a real talent for leadership.

That was the beginning for me of what has proven a most rewarding experience. For I was invited to hunt, and then become a member and then, to my great pride, at the advanced age of 59 I was given my colors.

That first year of membership started, of course, with cubbing. To get up in the cool darkness of very early morning, to tiptoe out of the house so as not to awaken family — which at the best took a very dim view of the old man going out and breaking his fool neck — and then the van trying its best to come in noiselessly — and not quite succeeding. Of course to see the sun rise at the meeting — and the shadowy figures of hounds, horses and riders becoming three dimensional — all this beauty soon won me to fox hunting.

There have followed now two full years of hunting for me. Starting with the hunt servants and the professionals and on up through the membership to the officers of the hunt, I was shown the most friendly welcome. I have stayed very much toward the back and most frequently I went around fields that were fenced in. But I know this country from my trail-developing; I have never lost the hunt and usually get there quickly enough.

One day I invited a young English woman to come along as my guest. At the end of the day I asked her how our hunting compared with the English sport. Her reply was most interesting — she said the sport was just as good, but that in England people didn't greet a stranger at all and certainly not with the cordiality they showed at Huntingdon.

That was my feeling too — for what a pleasant group of people I found. It must be characteristic of foxhunters — for when we have joint meets with other hunts I find the same out-going attitude — plus, of course, a desire to help and to help willingly and selflessly if any one gets into trouble.

One other thing impressed me. On one of my first hunts, by sheer accident, I met my classmate Larry Gubb. Neither of us knew that the other was interested in horses. That day Larry and his daughter and his granddaughter were all in the field. Any sport which enables three generations to enjoy themselves together — I'm for. But then of course, as you can gather, I'm for foxhunting.

was third in the Epsom Oaks. A very close relation won the French Derby. The second dam Nica by Nino won four of France's best stakes, was sister to several top stakes winners and out of a stakes winning dam. Royaumont is a third foal. The first foal, a filly, Valcamonica by Verso II winner of two races at 3 placed in stakes at 2. The 2-year-old colt Montmajour by My Love is considered high class by his trainer. Underbidders were Piere Wertheimer and finally Aly Khan.

G. L. Ohrstrom purchased two other yearlings, the chestnut colt Raconteur by Blue Peter out of a Chateau Bouscaut mare from a top French family, also a chestnut colt by Borealis out of a Fairway mare stemming from the well known English mares Inquisition and Jury. David D. Odell from Philadelphia purchased a truly magnificent bay colt Keukenhof by Norseman out of a winning daughter to the Guineas winner Kandy. The colt is a brother to stakes winners including Kwannin sold for $27,000 to England after his win there in the Triumph Hurdle.

Many countries were represented by actual buyers: England, Italy, Greece, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Portugal, Spain, Belgium, India, Brazil, and Venezuela. Best prices were paid by Francois Dupre for a colt by Tantime; by Nearcos also by Aly Khan for colts by Sicambre; by Rex Cohen for a colt by Vatelior and by Madame Kilian Hennessy for one by Goyama.

With the exception of the record priced Royaumont, an outstanding number in any sales ring, prices though decidedly on the upraise were still on a whole pretty low and clearly at the advantage of the buyers.

We certainly were surprised not to see more Americans attending the sales. French performers achieved since the war and once more this year at Epsom and at Ascot prove sufficiently the high standards of French breeding,—no flash in the pan. With less than 200 foals per crop the French bred are able to match successfully and beat on its own grounds English competition derived from crops which number 4000 foals.

Besides racing, polo and yearlings, Deauville offers a Casino famous for its Baccara and Roulette. Top class Hotels, Ciro's, Brummel and the Casino's Ambassadeurs are the rendez-vous of Parisian elegance. The Deauville season was previously hampered by disastrous nationwide strikes and bad weather. August 1955 was a most glorious month with 29 days of sunshine and only two days of rain.

German Intervarsity

Championships 1955

Reiner Schlosser

This year's Inter Varsity Championships were held at the end of the summer term in Göttingen in Northern Germany, which is one of the few German Universities still running a riding school of their own, the Universitätsreitinstitut. This is as old as the University itself and headed by Herr Stemmwedel, one of the best-known show jumpers here. Like last year the Championship was held as a small size, grade A 3 day event consisting of a dressage cross country and jumping competition. Horses were provided by the "Reitinstitut" and by private owners of the neighborhood. There were 23 universities represented with a total of 80 riders and the horses were distributed by lot on each day, the respective riders having five minutes to get acquainted with their mounts. As it was impossible to find 80 horses which jumping competition for postgraduates.

Leading after the dressage test on the first day were the teams of Munster and Freiburg University with equal marks. Best individual performance was that of Herr von Radowitz of Munster University, who later also won the class L dressage test.

Unfortunately it had been pouring rain on the day before this show, so that the cross country course could not be made as tough as had been planned originally and the most difficult obstacles, such as the drop-fence and water splash, had to be left out. As a result only one competitor was eliminated and most of the others had 0 penalty points, so that the decisive part was the speed phase at the end of the course. This second day saw the team of Göttingen University in front, with the best performance were equally good at dressage, cross country and jumping each of the available horses had to go under 3 riders on each day. This has proved the only way of holding such a championship as it would be impossible for the teams from all parts of Germany to bring their own horses along, especially as most of the students riding at the various Universities have no horses of their own. Besides the combined test, i. e. the elementary dressage, jumping and cross country competition — there was a more difficult class L dressage and a jumping competition for the 10 best competitors in the respective tests. As a way to promote and preserve the interest of former students in University equitation there was also a class L dressage and by Herr Nebe of the Darmstadt Polytechnic.

The show jumping course of the last day was, although low, a rather tricky one with several sharp turns so quite a number of competitors were eliminated. Judging was by faults and style, this way of judging being popular in less advanced competitions here. Best team, with no rider having any faults, was again Munster. First prize went to Herr Tetzner of Munster University, who finished second in last year's championship when he started for the team of Hannover. Runnerup was Herr von Radowitz who had his revenge later in the day when he won the class L jumping competition, judged by time and faults with a clear round and the best time.

The championship was thus won by Munster with a good lead from the Munich team, with Herr von Radowitz as individual winner. This was the first time Munster has sent a team to win the Inter-Varsity Championships. Credit for the splendid performance of the winning team must go to the head of the Munster Riding and Driving School, Major Paul Stecken, a brother of Fritz Stecken, who has meanwhile established quite a reputation as riding instructor in New York. This school has already produced a good part of the oncoming younger international riders here, such as the Lutge-Westhues brothers, the well-known international dressage rider, Reiner Klimke, by the way also a student of Munster University, though not a member of the team Herr Rothe, member of the German 3 day event team both in Helsinki and Windsor, earlier this year. Herr von Radowitz, the individual winner, is a well known 3 day event rider here, who has been trained at the Olympic Committee's Training Centre in Warendorf. He was scheduled to be the third member of the German Windsor team, but was prevented by a sudden illness from competing here.

Rock Runn

Because of hurricane Diane threats, this show was held two days earlier and camp closed immediately afterwards. The Camp is located in the Welsh mountains at Harmonyville. Mrs. Kenneth Winchell, the former Peggy Hills, did a splendid job of judging. Horsemanship championship went to Marcia Lee Ziegler after a close ride-off with reserve champion Trudy Schmidt. Lynda Overly won the trophy for the championship jumping horsemanship class with Adrienne Acheson winning the reserve. Since this is the third consecutive year that Lynda won the challenge trophy she retired it this year.

HORSE SHOWS

Beaverton

Every show has its surprises and Beaverton had several. First was the entry of G. E. Smith's Fallen Angel, winner of the junior jumpers with Judy McCormick up. Fallen Angel is a former Oregon horse which has been showing for several years in California under the name of Caprice. Mr. Smith has recently purchased the mare, which has always been a favorite of his, and will show her the rest of the season. Another pleasant happening was the awarding of the open hunter trophy to Nicol's Goodwin, a comparatively green horse with a very nice way of going. Since the show at Beaverton was held on the hard athletic field at the local high school, the footing was exceptionally poor and several of the veterans had trouble showing any pace. Goodwin, however, seemed blithely unaware of anything wrong and went on his way as merrily as could be.

son who came first in the junior Prix Caprilli on Mrs. G. R. McCall's Halloween, Mr. Jacques Trudeau on his Ouragan who was first in the novice dressage test as well as being first in the novice combined event, Section "B", Mrs. Leslie Wallis being first on Bridesmaid in Section "A" of the latter event. The intermediate dressage test was won by Mr. Charles D. Grant of Detroit riding Shining Gold, owned by Mr. James M. Jones, also of Detroit. Mr. Grand and Shining Gold later repeated by winning the medium dressage test, Monor MacDougall Perpetual Challenge Trophy. This horse and rider gave an exhibition of Haute Ecole each afternoon, which proved most interesting and enjoyable to riders and spectators alike. In the final class, which was the open combined event, Mrs. F. H. Dillingham rode Royal Hay Romp to take first place over Miss Barbara Kemp on Parral, who placed second. A vote of thanks is due Mrs. George Jacobsen of Hudson Heights, Que., who is responsible for putting on this fine show each year.

Downingtown

Following his usual consistent form, Fox Valley Farm's Pepwood made a clean sweep of the working division; with Kay Von Tress up, he won all three classes in which he was entered. In the reserve spot in both the working and children's divisions was Patty Worthington's Lady Luck. Sydney Smith's Sweetie Pie took the tricolor in the latter division.

Vince Dugan pretty well walked away with the jumper division with Willis Frankhauser's Mr. Chips and Sun Beau II when he cinched the first and second place ribbons in two out of the three point-counting classes. Bud Evans on Irish Lass and March Lockhart's Duffy kept the pace-setter rather busy though.

No doubt the most versatile horse at the show was John Kreisher's pretty grey mare, Sally K. Under the capable handling of Milton "Junie" Kulp, she proved to be an excellent double division-horse, placing in two jumper classes and three of the hunter classes.

Erie

Terrific heat made the Hamburg horse show more like a Turkish bath than an entertainment feature of the Erie County Fair. This, plus all the other things going on at the same time (A stage show, shooting and a ball game) created a little confusion, but the performances of the horses, especially the open jumpers was remarkably good. Actually the heat was too much for all of 128 people at the first day of the show — one little girl competing in a horsemanship class passed out from the heat while on her horse. Two spills also created a little more excitement — Jack Frohm and his horse hit the ground hard while competing in the open hunter event, Diane Victor and Country Girl were another combination to hit the turf (like concrete at that point), none of the horses or riders were hurt. Lorne Siegle of the ABC farm at Brampton Ont, was the outstanding winner in the hunters and jumpers. Mr. Siegle closed out the three day show by

Pittsfield

The combination of extreme heat and baked schooling ground apparently held hunter and jumper entries to a low point for the annual Pittsfield (Mass.) Horse Show, but hack and horsemanship classes were well-filled.

The show championship, based on total points, went to the seven-year-old 17.2 bay hunter gelding, Four Roses, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rooney of Loudenville, N. Y. Borrowed, owned by Church Hill Farm, Washington, Conn., and Spanish Breeze, owned by Mrs. W. Gordon Cox of Old Chatham, N. Y., both hunters; and the jumper Hi-Boy, owned by Henry J. Ingrots of Green Island, N. Y.

The horsemanship honors were well divided. The AHSA hunting seat equitation was won by Judy White of New Canaan, Conn., virtually by default, since her two rivals failed to get past the first jump.

Zenas C. Colt, noted polo player and guiding light of the host Pittsfield Riding and Polo Club, brought four of his children into the ring to win the family class over five other entries.

Ridgely

Horse shows on the Eastern Shore are drawing more entries from off the peninsula than in previous years. Yesterday many show horse owners from the Washington, D. C. and Baltimore areas entered their mounts at the Ridgely Horse Show sponsored by the Ridgely Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately 300 people attended the show which was held in the Ridgely Community Park. Rain halted the show after the 23rd class of a 29 class program.

Rose Tree

Continuing his winning form of a week ago (at the Fairfield, Conn. Junior H. S.), Sydney Gadd's stylish Atom Power hit the green working division here literally like an "atom bomb". In his easy going manner, the grey won every class in the division; meanwhile, his rider was accounting for the reserve Best Child Rider award. Last year's winner, Margaret McGinn (who seems to make a habit of retiring Best Child Rider trophies), won her second leg on the Championship trophy.

The children's championship eventually went to Barbara Smith's Gold Garter, the only horse to successfully complete the difficult children's handy course. A three-way tie between Mrs. John Dovey's Seabee, Mimi Cummin's Coupon, and Margaret Johnson's Pep Ricki for the reserve award was hacked off with the award going to the very honest Pep Ricki.

Betty Baldwin rode her brother's Jayber to the hunter championship, with Carol Kitchell cinching the reserve spot when her Ally Broom won the stake.

Smithtown

It is not often that one witnesses a victory more popular than the one scored by Johnny Bell at the Smithtown show. He brought out a 3-year-old, his wife's Mokey's Kid, with which he won the jumper stake and the tricolor. It was Johnny's first championship since returning to riding after a long siege of operations and illnesses.

As they have been all summer in Long Island shows, hunter entries were on the light side as compared to the hunters in other divisions. The horses of Cavcote Farm made a clean sweep of the top awards as Mrs. T. V. W. Cushny rode Night Lily and Lord Chesterfield to the championship and reserve respectively.

It was the first such awards for both the tricolor winners in the green hunter division. Miss Barbara Marra rode Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Merkel's Fighting Irish to his first championship while Michael McDermott rode Ed. Munson's Roanoke to his first reserve.

Not to be outdone by her sister, Mrs. Cushny, Sara Ann Cavanagh did equally as well in the horsemanship division when she won every class she was in, including her second medal. Reserve was a newcomer to the Long Island show scene, Claire Aurnhammer.

Although the force of the hurricane was greatly diminished when it hit Sussex County, there were still terrific winds and more rain than has ever fallen on this section of the country in one day. The committee voted on Friday night to continue the event, but during the night two tents were blown down. Luckily enough, none of the animals in these two tents suffered any injury. However, the exhibitors began moving out as the winds and rain increased. By Saturday morning, not enough horses were left on the grounds to continue the show, the ring was too wet and muddy for use and the wind and rain persisted. It was then that the committee decided to cancel.

Now another problem has come up for the committee. Although they are allowed by the A.H.S.A. to pin championships, since over 50 per cent of their classes were held, there are ties for the jumper and green working hunter championships and the working hunter reserve ribbon. The committee presented their problem to the A.H.S.A. and that group will make a decision at a special meeting of the Board of Directors to be held in September. The other championships and reserves will be sent to the winners by mail.

The A.H.S.A. will also decide if championship points will go toward the yearly high score awards. This is important to winners because the show was classified as an "A" event in working hunters and jumpers and a "B" show in the green division.

A crowd of about 1,500 attended the Eastern Shore's largest horse show here yesterday. There were over 200 horses and ponies competing for points toward championships in the Combined Eastern Shore Horse Show Association.

The hunter championship went to Muscovado, owned by Mrs. Roland Koehler of Wilmington. The little grey mare also took the green hunter championship.

Bedford, shown by Joe Green of Lititz, Pa., took the jumper championship and the reserve went to Rusty, owned by Green Briar Stable, Annapolis.

Bambi, owned and shown by Susan Molesworth, Owings Mills, took top honors in the pony division.

Griffith's and there studied the judging of the Welsh Riding Pony. I did some judging with Col. Jack Hance and we got on so well together. This was at the estate of Col. and Mrs. Phipps Hornby. The latter is quite an authority on pony judging. In fact she and Mrs. Griffith came over to my lectures and movies to the Pony Clubs at Colwyn Bay and East-ergate, and so did Mr. and Mrs. Hance, which to me was a great honor. We had some very nice chats after the lectures.

I also spent a bit of time with my very good friend Reggie Summerhays studying the judging of Arabs. I am a member of the Canadian Arab Association and a senior judge of them in the C. H. S. A. We are pushing the Arab here and have got two classes in the Royal Winter Fair in November.

The Perfect Hack

Dear Sir:

After reading numerous articles in The Chronicle, I am not so sure who knows what dressage really is. It is something like the word "thoroughbred". "Thoroughbred" actually means pure bred. To horsemen, it has come to mean a breed of horse, and horsemen in general sneer when someone mentions a thoroughbred Hampshire, Poland White, Hereford, or Poodle. But is the horse-man right? Similarly, the word "dressage", to many horsemen, has come to mean training of a certain sort. Actually the word means "training." Is it right for a self styled group to say that if you teach a horse to do "this", it is "training", but if you teach him to do "that", it is a "circus trick". I am afraid that this is approaching an unreasonable snobbery. The snobbery is then aided by those who revere what they don't know anything about. These are the people who piously say, "You can see all dressage movements executed by horses turned out in a field, so it is all perfectly natural". More often have I seen horses in pasture: 1. Munching grass 2. Galloping with abandon 3. Bucking and snorting 4. Lying down and rolling. Why are not these natural movements required in so called Dressage; that is, provided they were executed with alertness and aplomb?

I dislike the sneering of one group of fanciers in the direction of another group. However, I dislike more the attitude of some who say, "This is the only thing to do and this is the way to do it. Anyone doing anything else is wrong". All training is admirable to me, especially if the trainer shows gentleness, persuasiveness, and patience to achieve results. I am not fond of the strap up, chastize, and yank methods. It is, nevertheless, sometimes impossible to know what methods brought what results.

a big horse without stirrups, so my mount is trained to kneel for me to mount. He is broken to drive, and is completely whip broken. I can turn him loose in a ring and exercise him by voice. Without a bridle or reins, he will back or jump, or execute a fair two track, and even march. He gives me as much satisfaction and companionship as a well trained dog. If anyone calls him a trick horse, I burn up. I consider him well trained in my language — even French.

Incidentally, he is by Count Fleet out of Court Manners by Equipose — which shows that the Thoroughbred can be taught as well as any other breed.

"Country Neighbors"

Dear Sir:

I'd like to nominate as Editorial of the Year, your recent one on "Country Neighbors". Without a shadow of a doubt, this seems to me to be the best thing I've ever read on that all-important subject.

It didn't spare the punches either and might well be framed and hung in the front hall of every country home. It also points up very forcibly the basic essentials for a successful Master of Foxhounds — i.e., a man (or woman) who is sincerely and without any trace of snobbishness, a true friend and neighbor; a man with an innate ability to put himself in the other fellow's place, and with the firm resolve to "do unto others as he would be done by."

Seems to me also that this Editorial might be recommended as suitable bedtime story material for Foxhunters to read to their Pony Club youngsters — or, for that matter, for all country homeowners to read to any child living in the country, even if that child may never ride anything more spirited than a bicycle or a Cadillac. Congratulations!

Yours Sincerely,

Blind Brook Wins Eighth Match In Eleven Starts

Bill Briordy

The Blind Brook Polo Club won its eighth match in eleven starts this season when it turned back the Westchester quartet, 7 to 5, at the Blind Brook club at Purchase, N. Y., on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 4.

Leading by 4-2 at intermission the Blind Brook riders had a fight on their hands in order to gain the decision. Bill Crawford's goal for Blind Brook broke a 5-5 deadlock midway in the final period.

Westchester had knotted the count three times, the last two occasions on goals by Hans Ditisheim in the fourth and sixth chukkers. Bill Crawford headed the scorers with three goals. He rode with Fred Lutz, Bob Ackerman and Bill Westerlund. Ditisheim's teammates were George Haas, Jack Crawford and John White.

At Bethpage (L. I.) State Park on Sept. 4, the Bethpage Polo Club notched six of its goals in the first three periods to beat Meadow Brook, 8 to 5. Archie Young, riding at No. 1 for Bethpage, stroked five goals. Phil Inglehart made four of Meadow Brook's markers. Bethpage led by 6-4 at half-time.

At Huntington, L. I., on the night of Sept. 2, the Huntington Polo Club clubbed a Meadow Brook side, 12 to 1, while West Hills beat the Long Islanders, 17 to 9, in the weekly arena polo double-header.

Archie Young and Phil Inglehart each hit six goals in Huntington's victory, while Joe Schwartz stroked seven and Bob Stackler six in the West Hills success.

Deauville

Gold Cup

Evelyn Prescott

August 21st, the "radiodiffusion-television" was not disappointed when it removed itself to the Deauville polo fields to cover the finals for the Gold Cup. A really impressive game was enjoyed by an ever large number of enthusiastic spectators.

The Hurlingham team, represented by Harper, Hill, Hanut Singh and Guinness, took on the strong Villa d'Este team, represented by Mairesse-Lebrun, the six-goaler de la Serna, Argentina's high-goaler Menditeguy and the Italian player Noe.

Menditeguy and la Serna were in top form, yet they were unable to make a dent in Hurlingham's defense till the fourth chukka. By this time Hurlingham had piled up no less than five goals to which they added a sixth in the fifth chukka. Villa d'Este picked up two goals in the 4th chukka and one in the final to succumb to a 6-3 defeat. All the same, it was a very close game; Villa d'Este had many near misses and frequently looked as if they would dominate the game. The victory for Hurlingham was largely a result of their excellent team work and the well-earned Gold Cup was presented to them by the Duke de Grammont, President of the Deauville polo.

Earlier in August, four teams competed for the 'Coupe d'Argent' (Championship of France); Bagatelle (Col. Brau, Henri Couturie, Arnaud and Gilles de Montbrison), Ratanada (Hanut Singh, Sinclair Hill, de Pass, R. Wilson), Villa d'Este (Mairesse, Lebrun, la Serna Harari) and Cibao la Pampa (Carcano, Domecq, Rubirosa and Andre de Ganay). Argentina's top players, Cavanagh and Menditeguy, had to be removed from the last two teams mentioned as they would have made them too strong for this twelve-goal contest.

A higher-goal tournament was finished Saturday the 20th when Cibao la Pampa (Dominican Republic's Rubirosa, Spain Domecq, Argentina's 9-goaler Cavanagh and France's de Ganay) defeated Woolmers (Lucas, Kishen Singh, and the two Labor brothers, both handicapped at 7 goals). It was a hard fought battle but the English team finally lost out by a 1½ goal margin. Mme. la marquise d'Audriffret-Pasquier presented the Capel Cup to Cibao la Pampa.

Maule Farms Club Takes Series From Chadds Ford Quartet

Bob Gallagher

Maule Farms topped Chadds Ford 10-4 in the rubber game of a best of three series last Sunday September 7th. on the Brandywine Field near Kennett Square, Pa. Chadds Ford won the first game in the series 6-3, while the Maule Riders captured the second 8-5.

After a rainout last Wednesday night players and ponies were in readiness for the payoff match as were about 1200 enthusiastic fans, spurred on by the absence of summer heat.

Chadds Ford's Ted James made the first tally of the day when he tapped the ball in after a lofted off side fore shot by team mate Lyle Phillips from mid-field. Shortly after "Mo" Allred tied up the game for Maule Farms on a pass from Weymouth to Stewart to himself.

Maule Farms held the Forders scoreless in the second period while chalking up three goals to take a comfortable 4-1 lead. The scoring came in this order: Col. Howard C. Fair broke the tie, Weymouth followed with a nicely executed off side fore shot, and finally Albie Stewart, with a nice bit of individual work, made his score with a series of off side fore shots.

Stewart suffered a head injury after the first minute of play in the third chukker. The mishap came after he effectively crooked the mallet of Norm Taylor. However he was unable to free his stick from Taylor's and took the full brunt of it under his helmet visor. He was given first aid on the field and after a brief timeout remounted and covered his No. 2 spot for the rest of the game. Offensively, Stewart's injury had an effect on Maule Farms as they failed to dent the Chadds Ford defense for the next six and one half minutes. In the meantime Chadds Ford went on a scoring spree and tied the score 4-4 at half time. Phillips maced the first goal. James contributed the second and third marker. His first came on a pass from Taylor while his second, which broke the tie, was a high lofted off side fore shot.

The defensive work of both clubs was at its best in the fourth period. However "Mo" Allred broke through for Maule Farms to score the lone goal in the chukker and give his team a slim margin.

Maule Farms maced three goals in the fifth period and two in the final to swamp the Forders who faded completely in the last two segments. Chadds Ford threatened a few times in the final period but the Maule Riders changed the direction of play every time.

"Mo" Allred led the victors with four goals, while Ted James paced the losers with three.

Polo returned to Brandywine, after two rainouts, last Wednesday night August 24th. Two games were played on the local field near Kennett Square, Pa., with Maule Farms topping Wilmington 10-4, and Brandywine trouncing Pittsfield 21-10 before a capacity crowd of 4500. Wilmington's victory placed them one game behind the first place Chadds Ford trio in the Arena League.

Maule Farms stepped into a two goal first chukker lead on the strength of Albie Stewart's angled off side back shot from ten yards out and "Mo" Allred's follow up shot from his own foul attempt. Although Wilmington's "Duke"

Stewart started the scoring in the second period by tapping one in, set up by team mate Ted James, the Maule Farm machine quickly put an end to this attack and proceeded to pile up five goals of their own. Allred contributed three goals, while Weymouth added two to post a 7-1 half time score in favor of Maule.

Wilmington waxed strong in the last two chukkers by only allowing the Maule Club to dent its goal three times, while at the same time making three tallies of its own. Phillips scored twice for Wilmington, with James scoring once. Two of the Maule goals were maced by Albie Stewart, with Weymouth contributing the third.

The visiting Pittsfield Club, despite a five goal handicap, was unable to cope with Brandywine's twenty one goal onslaught. Ray Harrington and Billy Mayer sparked the victors with eight goals each. However it was not until the middle of the second period that Brandywine was able to tie the game at 7-7 and overcome Pittsfield's handicap. It was Mayer's well executed off side back shot which forced the deadlock. Shortly after Mike Sassone riding at No. 1 for Brandywine broke the tie with a hard off side back shot. From here on out the Brandywiner's kept the score keeper busy by adding goal after goal. Before the final whistle blew Sassone contributed four goals to Harrington and Mayer's efforts. Skip Drowne and Zenas Colt shared scoring honors for Pittsfield with two goals each.

It was a great night for new polo fans as Harrington and Mayer treated them to an exhibition consisting of every conceivable shot made from all angles. The team work of Harrington, Mayer, and Sassone was also at its best and a big feature in the high score.

IS YOUR POLO PONY HAPPY?

Those who read Col. J. K. Stanford's article in THE FIELD (June 23rd) suggesting that polo ponies 'hate' the game, were no doubt pleased to read Brigadier Gannon's article in the same publication (July 14th) on Army Polo in Germany. Brigadier Gannon pointedly mentioned the 25 year-old polo pony 'Busyboddy' as one who certainly relished the game: "With cocked ears he twisted and turned, hunting Walford up and down the ground with every sign of enjoyment."

There are undoubtedly polo players so heavy handed that most of the pleasure a pony can find in the game is greatly diminished. However, let us hope such players are relatively few in number.

Today, polo players could hardly expect large numbers of spectators at their games if the public were to feel that ponies were in any way mistreated or even uncomfortable. Therefore, every player owes it to the game to see to it that it is not jeopardized by unnecessary exhibitions of poor horsemanship.

Warrenton Horse Show

Rain Cloud

The committee of the Warrenton Horse Show, the "hunter show of America" must have been living right. What started out looking like monsoon weather Saturday morning before the show, straightened up, and with the exception of slippery going on the first day, was tops for the show's duration.

A number of new improvements to the show grounds were in evidence. Most significant of these was the new outside course (8 stout looking fences), a good test of a hunter's ability to gallop on and jump.

While the show has been dubbed the "hunter show of America" it may well have been called the "junior show of America," for each class produced at least 20 well-mounted juniors. If the future of fox hunting lies in their hands it's fairly safe for a bolder, hard riding clan would be hard to find. After a shake down of 4 classes, the junior champion appeared in Bonnie Jean II, owned and ridden by Barbara Butler of Atlanta, Georgia. . . the green working division of the show was well supported . . . W. J. Brewster's Little Sombrero won 4 of his 5 green working classes to receive the tri-color. . . the only class the well-mannered bay missed out on was the Stake, won by Morton (Cappy) Smith on his free striding big chestnut Guardsman. . . 3 hunters qualified for the Champion 3-year-old of Virginia, which Cummins-Chicago Corp.'s Cormac colt, Corpond won. . . he also copped the Alex Calvert Perpetual Memorial Trophy—Bob Burke had the mount. . . the conformation division, as is the case all over the country, was weak, with only about 6 entries to a class. . . Fox Covert's Pike's Peak won the first conformation performance class, the Corinthian, the Stake and lesser ribbons to clinch the championship—Jack Payne handled the reins. . . Pike's Peak's one time stablemate Cummins-Chicago Corp.'s Count To Ten gave him a rub most of the way. . . both horses are by Wait A Bit and were bred by the C. M. Greers of Middleburg. Mrs. Greer bred Count To Ten, while Mr. Greer is listed as breeder of Pike's Peak. . . Lakelawn Farm's Sun Dial, Ed Daniels up, was the reserve conformation champ. The big chestnut was never out of the ribbons in any of his classes and turned in one of the most outstanding rounds of the entire show when he won the combined Thoroughbred—Halfbred hunters class with a brilliant round. . . he was the only Halfbred in the classes. . . Mrs. Graham J. Graham's Triple Shot won 2 classes including the stake and lesser ribbons to take the green conformation rosette over a nice turn out of green horses. . . the old-timer Copperfield put in one good performance after another over the testing outside course to cop the working award. . . the slight bay was ridden by owner Hugh Gentry. . . Tuffy, Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Bruce's capable "little" bay with diminutive Mrs. C. F. Blair in the irons, racked up points to earn his reserve in this division. . . he also played the part of Nashua (with an assist from Nelson Noland) in the Costume Class and was far better mannered in the "winner's circle" than his namesake. . . among the open jumpers Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Blair's Spinning Time of the "scampering" stride won the jumper championship after scoring in 3 classes and placing in 2 others. . . one of her wins was the very difficult In and Out class —4 in and outs (2 on each side the ring) and 5 fences straight down the center of the ring spaced 24 feet apart. . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fout's young buckskin mare Another Chance was reserve . . . with Mrs. Fout up, this mare showed tremendous leaping ability.

Extra-curricular activities at Warrenton. . . Arthur Godfrey's exhibition of dressage maneuvers and circus tricks. . . the invasion of the Arabian into hunt country. . . there were 9 Arabian classes at Warrenton. . . Mrs. R. C. Winmill's handsome 6 pony hitch correctly turned out to the most minute detail. . . the square dance on horseback, and the inevitable Nelly Kelly.

BOOKS

RIDING — by Mrs. V.D.S. Williams. Published for The British Horse Society by Educational Productions Ltd., London, 7 Shillings 6 Pence ($1.05). Distributed by J. A. Allen & Co., 1 Lower Grosvenor Place, Buckingham Palace Road, London S.W.1, England.

Mrs. Williams is a distinguished horsewoman. Her performance in Dressage competitions have been outstanding. She is a profound student of the art of horsemanship. She has contributed generously in time and effort to the activities of the British Pony Club and, with her distinguished husband, Col. V. D. S. Williams, O. B. E., President of The British Horse Society, she has influenced greatly the improvement in the standards of British riding which has taken place during the past generation. She has condensed into this brief volume of a hundred and twenty-five pages much of the expert knowledge which she has acquired from a lifetime of study and practice. It is not surprising that this book should be well worth the attention of any serious student of riding.

But if this book has been written, as stated on the wrapper, to encourage young riders to have more understanding of their mounts and thus to appreciate the finer points of horsemanship, I suggest that it has failed in its purpose. It goes much too far too fast to be a useful tool in the hands of the "young rider". After a mere ten pages of text, and at the very beginning of the section on hands we find the author talking about asking for "flexions" without even a preliminary explanation of what a flexion is. How many "young riders" can be expected to have or perhaps even to acquire any knowledge of flexions. A few pages further on we find the author discussing bracing the back as "the cause of the strongest aid the rider can produce". Mrs. Williams seems to draw a subtle distinction between using the "braced back" as a direct aid as claimed by such German writers as Museler (Riding Logic) and its function in implementing the use of the legs as an aid. This whole concept of the "braced back" can be an interesting and a very controversial subject for the advanced student of riding. But how completely this must be beyond the comprehension of a "young rider". And what a dangerous idea to suggest to the inexperienced rider who most assuredly will not be able to put it into practice. The subject of jumping is reached at the end of forty pages and is very well covered in the space of six pages, half of which is devoted to illustrations. But how can our "young rider" proceed at this headlong pace. And so I suggest that while this book may be strongly recommended as a concise summary and a handy book of reference for use by the experienced rider, it is scarcely to be recommended for the "young rider" for whom apparently it was written.

It is interesting to find that even in such a relatively small book Mrs. Williams still follows the custom of so many British authors by devoting almost a fourth of her text to the assorted subjects of the saddlery, horse clothing, stable equipment, grooming, shoeing, stable management and common ailments. She does it very well. And again it makes for a handy brief book of reference. But is it not a mistake to try to cover so much ground in so little space. Some day I hope we may have a book by Mrs. Williams which has not been subjected to the space limitations which quite apparently controlled the preparation of this in many ways excellent little volume.

THE IRISH HORSE, Vol. XXII, 1954. Founded, edited and published by The Bloodstock Breeders' and Horse Owners' Association of Ireland, 21 Parliament Street, Dublin, Ireland. 247pp. 32 principal illustrations. Price 2 pounds.

This official publication of The Bloodstock Breeders' and Horse Owners' Association of Ireland gives the detailed record of the Irish Thoroughbred in 1954 in practically every country on the globe. According to the introduction last year more races were won by Irish-bred horses in their native land and abroad than in any previous year for which records were kept. Prize money, without the values for 35 of the events won in Venezuela and in the absence of details from Egypt, amounted to over a million and a quarter pounds. Great Britain led in prize money, with the U. S. second. Last year in this country 188½ flat races were won by Irish-breds, 5 scored in hurdle races and 13 over brush for a total of 207,773 pounds.

The above is only a brief skim of the many facts to be found in this useful volume. Each country in which Irish-breds raced is dealt with in a separate chapter, with pictures of the standout horses. Also included are chapters on the Irish Packs of hounds, The Connemara Pony, the Dublin, Belfast, Cork, Clonmel, Limerick Horse Shows as well as well as Stanislaus Lynch's A Huntsmen's Paradise.

As in most yearly books of this type, the statistics — leading sires, yearling averages, sires of steeplechase winners, etc. — are carried out to the most minute detail, giving the reader a handy, yet complete, background to any Irish bloodline in which he may be interested.

place award, 2 lengths to the good of Galant Ship. The winner recorded the time of 7:05½ for the 3 miles and 19 jumps.

Currently managing the Marlton, N. J. farm of John McShain's Barclay Stable, Thoburn Smith sent out Price Ceiling to win the Big Elk turf race for the Philadelphia builder and hotel owner. Ably handled in a hot stretch ride by Scott Riles, the winner turned back Llangollen Farm's Tall Tree by ¾'s of a length. The latter just nosed out the Bellevue Farm's Espantoon in the photo finish, which disclosed him to be just a neck to the good of C. Mahlon Kline's Lethnot. Covering the 1½ mile turf course in 1:49½, the winner gave Thoburn Smith a popular introduction to the trainer ranks. In the past he was well known as the assistant to David Dallas Odell and Sidney Watters, Jr. The winning race also marked the introduction of the Barclay Stable, which houses the famous Polly's Jet, to hunt racing.

The Cowtown, which closed the program, gave the Arcadia Stable's Caste his first victory since he ran for Rigan McKinney in 1952. Ridden by James Murphy and carrying a claiming tag of $5,000, the hurdler outgamed Stanchfield Wright's Third Copy in the stretch drive to win by a nose. C. Mahlon Kline's Polly Pep finished 3rd, 5 lengths off the hard-pushed leaders. With 7 in the field, the winner traversed the 1¼ mile route over 19 hurdles in 3:15½.

CHAMPION FOXHOUNDS

At the American Foxhound Show held at Montpelier, August 27th, Orange County's Oxford '54 (O.C.H. Millwood '49 ex Their Mistress '50) won the classes for single entered dogs, stallion hounds, champion dog hound, and champion American foxhound. He is a typical Orange County red hound, deep bodied and well balanced; since he is only two years old he should become even more impressive as he develops. Middleburg's bitches were, as usual, outstanding, Katherine (Middleburg Red River '47 ex Their Rosalind '51) winning the unentered bitch class and her dam Rosalind '51 (Middleburg Kitchner '49 ex Their Vanity '48) accounting for the classes for single entered bitches, brood bitch, champion bitch and reserve champion American foxhound. She is the Middleburg type, short legged and deep bodied, with a particularly good spring of rib.

SUCCESSFUL BIDDER

Timonium, Sept. 9; Mr. Humphrey S. Finney, president and general manager of the famous sales firm, Fasig-Tipton company was the successful bidder on a four wheel pony cart which was auctioned at the conclusion of to-nights Maryland Pony Breeders Annual Pony Sale. Mr. Finney withstood bids from surrounding buyers to emerge victorious with his offer of $35. This is believed to be the highest price ever offered for a shaftless pony cart. After the sale Mr. Finney cautioned his son John, who announced pedigrees at the sale, about selling unsound pony carts.

LIKE OLD TIMES

Not many years ago many of the larger Virginia Horse Shows not only offered the best in competition but they also gave the dealer or private individual the opportunity to show and exhibit their horses to prospective buyers from all over the US and Canada. This years Warrenton Horse Show seemed to bring this industry back to life. The Cummins-Chicago Corporation sold their outstanding Green Conformation horse CORPOND to Mrs. Atkinson of Cleveland, Ohio; the C-Bar Farm of Fort Worth, Texas purchased the young open jumper ANOTHER CHANCE from Paul Fout; Morton W. "Cappy" Smith bought the grey working hunter BON STAR from Rick Coker; Mr. L. Clay Camp purchased a spotted chestnut and white open jumper from New Hope Farm; and Alan B. Connell sold his grey open horse MR. HOULIHAN to Rick Coker. Just prior to the start of the show Waverly Farm sold their green conformation hunter BANSHEE'S BABY to Mr. Earl N. Parker.

MRS. BUCHANAN

The death of Helen, Mrs. "Buck" Buchanan, last August 16th, was a sorely felt loss to members of the Fairfield County Hunt. Her unselfish enthusiasm and heartfelt interest in equine matters were outstanding. For many years she stood by at the Horse Shows for whatever useful job was needed and gave both knowledge and moral support.

Best of all, however, was the sight of her car — no matter how early the hunt meet — clipping around back lanes, often viewing a fox the field had not sighted and being at a kill with the first flighters.

Her help and kindness to the Junior Hunt members was immeasurable, but perhaps her greatest contribution to their enthusiasm, zest and good manners is the Buchanan Challenge Trophy, presented each year by herself and Buck, to the Junior member who has, the past season, been the most able, helpful and courteous.

TEXAS POLO TEAM INVITED TO MEXICO

The 7th of September, General Juan F. Azcarate, President of the Mexican Polo Federation, flew to San Antonio, Texas to invite member clubs and polo players of the South-western Circuit to send a 25-goal team to Mexico City.

Mexico is particularly interested in having this team play at the beginning of their season, October 30th, November 2nd, and November 6th, and a 5-goal handicap will be the most accorded to any team during this series.

The Texas-Mexico trophy will consist of a large silver bowl with 4 silver replicas for each of the winning players.

Transportation, stabling and feed will be provided for up to 20 horses during their stay within the Mexican borders as well as 10 days lodging for four players and four grooms. Additional grooms will also be provided.

The Mexicans are hoping that other players and their wives, besides the team, will come to watch the games and attend the social and recreational activities which are being planned for this occasion.

ARGENTINE POLO PLAYER IN BASQUE ACCIDENT

At midnight, before the Biarritz polo tournaments were to start September 4th, a serious accident occurred on the road from Ascain to St. Jean-de-Luz. Five people were injured, two of them seriously, when the Argentine polo player, Miguel Carcano, rounded a corner and his Jaguar crashed violently into a taxi. The occupants of the taxi were returning from a night game of 'pelot' and included ex-champion Leon Itcia who was particularly badly injured and had to go to a hospital. Carcano, whose Jaguar made a complete somersault into a ditch, was able to return to his hotel after some first aid treatment. —E.P.

Course, Middleburg, has secured in London cups to be presented in their feature races, the Daniel C. Sands Cup and the Chronicle Cup. The Sands Cup was first given when Mr. Pattison Ellames' brown gelding Tommy by Improver won a race on Crosby Sands, August 10, 1813. The cup is to be presented in the brush race. The Chronicle Cup, presented in the timber race, was first awarded as a trophy by the Prince of Wales. Both cups must be won 3 times for permanent possession.

WELL-BRED HUNTERS

Most every horseman is well acquainted with the adaptability of the Thoroughbred horse. But, other than at racing, the Thoroughbred excels as a hunter, be it in the show ring or hunting field. At the recent Warrenton Horse Show, "The Hunter Show of America", there were a number of exceptionally well-bred horses which competed. Among them were such as McDoel (Questionnaire—Level Head, by *Sir Gallahad III), a half sister to the stakes winning 'chaser Lock and Key . . . from the immediate family of Whirlaway. He sold for $32,000 as a 2-year-old at the Oglebay dispersal . . . another was Waiting Home (Wait A Bit—Marching Home, by John P. Grier), who is half-brother to the stakes winners Bounding Home (winner of the Belmont), Breezing Home and Romping Home . . . the green hunter Besiege (*Blenheim II—Late Date, by *Hourless), also has the bluest of pedigrees. He is a half brother to the stakes winners Beau Busher and War Date . . . sold for $28,500 in the 1949 Keeneland summer yearling sales . . . Topsfield (*Easton—Sun Fritters, by *Sun Briar), who won over hurdles at the Rolling Rock Hunt Meeting, Ligonier, was shown. He is a full brother to the stakes winning steeplechasers Sun Bath and Sun Shower . . . also, the reserve jumper championship, Another Chance, is by the imported English-bred stallion Night Legend (Mid-day Sun—Nightfall II, by Dark Legend).

WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED

When Dancing Beacon won the timber race at the first Fair Hill meeting his owner, Mr. George P. Greenhalgh, Jr. of Boyce, Va. was recovering from an operation in the Winchester Memorial Hospital. For some days before the event the staff and patients of that institution had become exceedingly race conscious—in fact the excitement was terrific. When the news came that the bay gelding had galloped first across the finish line and had paid a handsome price the whoops and halloos that reverberated through rooms, wards, halls and operating rooms, led by his irrepressible owner, provided a tonic that noticeably improved the thermometer readings that night.

Ila McAfee's Painting "Arabian Trio" On The Chronicle Cover

Ila McAfee Turner, a native of Gunnison, Colorado, studied with James E. McBurney of Chicago, whom she also assisted with murals. Her art schools included the National Academy of Design, New York, the Art Students' League, New York, and the Haz School, Los Angeles.

Her favorite easel subjects are horses, in which her interest goes back to childhood on her father's Colorado ranch. She lived with and studied ranch animals, gaining first hand knowledge of their anatomy, as well as their habits. Consequently, her paintings convey the immediate impression of understanding and feeling of the animal, itself.

VIRGINIANS AT BRYN MAWR

The post entires of the Blue Ridge Hunt at the Bryn Mawr Hound Show had their own cheering section ranged along the sides of the ring where American hounds were judged. These included A. Mackay-Smith, M. F. H. and Mrs. Mackay-Smith (Jean Bowman); Dr. and Mrs. Sam Birch; General and Mrs. Pleas B. Rogers; Miss Vaida Boy-Ed, and Richard E. Dole.

A similar group from the Orange County Hunt had the pleasure of seeing their red dog hounds win the pack class and many other honors. These included Charles G. Turner, M. F. H. and Mrs. Turner; Fletcher Harper, ex-M. F. H. and Mrs. Harper; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Furness; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Patterson.

Up from the Keswick Hunt were Mr. & Mrs. Ned Carle while from Deep Run came George Cole Scott, M. F. H. and his step-daughter Carina Malcolm, Mrs. Aldrich Dudley and Miss Frances Newbill. Completing the picture were Oliver Durant, M. F. H. of the Hazelmere and Mrs. Durant.

BETWEEN THE HORSE'S EARS

You say the course is hard?
That big white coop and gate
May be the downfall sure
Of some of the top rate.
But my horse, here, I know
Values himself too much
He will be careful — sure —
He'll go with nary a touch!
Now there's a nasty fall,
That big hot-headed bay
Right through the aiken plowed!
My god! it's hot today!
There goes that Irish grey
I told you all about,
A champion in his day,
His legs now clean jumped out.
—Say Boy, you over there!
Put nineteen into line! —
(You numbskull) — Yes, alright,
I'll follow number nine. —
Is my number on straight?
Once more, tell me the course.
Planks, rails, coop, gate and brush
— (stand still you stupid horse!) —
Gallop over the hill,
Then through the in-and-out
And up the four foot bank
And end with oser stout.
My number's next to go,

They're calling number nine
Into the gate to jump!
— Don't shove, that place is mine! —
— Nineteen into the ring —
Heads up at the gate.
Relax boy, you must learn
To stand and calmly wait.
Good Luck! We're off! Take care!
(That's skimming mighty near!)
Set yourself boy, that's it.
Listen to that crowd cheer!
You're rolling now, good boy!
Baby, you're doing great!
Make this last fence as smooth
As you did the last gate!
That's all, not long to wait.
(That was a job, well done!)
Congratulations? Thanks!
You think our round has won?
Look, the last horse has gone,
They are judging the class.
— Yes, I'd love a drink
To make time quickly pass! —

Other local tournaments will be held during the Inter-Circuit meet in order to allow players other than those on circuit teams to participate. The winter tournaments will be held during February and March. Everything points to a highly successful season. — E. H.

Goes racing down my spine.
— "Nineteen has won the class"
That number? Yes! It's mine!!
